Dear Mr Paul Van Schaik

Re:

Cardiac Physiology Service outpatient investigation

Unit Number: D586082

NHS Number: 628 197 5472

An outpatient investigation has been arranged for you with the Cardiac Physiology Service.
Your appointment details are:

When Monday 28 April 2025 at 10:15

Where James Cook Cardiac Investigations Unit First Floor, Yellow Route, South Entrance

James Cook University Hospital

What to bring

- * This letter
- * Medication list or medicines, including any inhalers

You will be fitted with a small lightweight digital recorder for This is connected to your chest via 3 sticky electrodes. You will be able to go about your usual daily activities except bathing and swimming for the designated monitoring period. You will need to be able to return this monitor on the day you remove it. It is imperative the equipment is returned to ensure your results are available and the monitor is ready for the next patient. Should you require Ambulance transport you should make the booking to include a return trip the day the monitor is due to be removed.

A map and directions are available on our website. If there is an attachment with this letter, it is important that you read it and understand what will happen at this appointment. Further information about specialist clinic services and what to expect when you arrive is available on our website at www.southtees.nhs.uk

Please contact us on 01642 854607 between 08:30 to 17:00, Monday to Friday or email stees.ciadmin@nhs.net if:

- * you need more information
- * you change your name, address or phone number
- * you no longer need an appointment
- * you are unable to keep your appointment and need to reschedule it

Appointments in this clinic are in high demand. Patients who miss an appointment without contacting us will be clinically reviewed to determine whether a further appointment should be offered, or you could be discharged from the clinic.

Yours sincerely

Patient Experience
